

Five Steps to Success

Step 1 - Initial training

Four-week intensive course to prepare the student for workaday company life.

Step 2 - Semesters 1 to 4

Study periods in the University of Cooperative Education alternate with practical work periods in the firm.

Step 3 - Intermediate Examination

The marks are made up of those for the Second Year Trainee Project and for those of a presentation to be given in English. (Award after 4 Semesters: State-approved Economic Administrative Assistant)

Step 4 - Semesters 5 and 6

Academic study periods: Advanced theoretical study
Practical Training Periods: Substantially independent work in the different departments of the partner company.

Step 5 - Final Year Project

Finding the solution unassisted to an operational problem in the partner company, applying academic method, with subsequent colloquium.

Denomination of Award: Bachelor of Arts

Talented young trainees for your company

iba University of Cooperative Education
State-recognised - Internationale Berufsakademie

Advantages of being an IBA partner enterprise

1. You can rely on the student's regular presence in the firm

Due to our split timetable (2 days in the classroom + 2 ½ days in the company), the student is always available.

2. No more initial training costs for new staff!

Because your IBA student has got to know your company thoroughly during his practical periods with you, he/she can be deployed without further ado in a responsibility post.

3. Your firm benefits from an infusion of the latest business and technical advances.

4. Close Contact with the IBA

We listen to you. Our flexible study system allows us to take your training and planning requirements into consideration.

5. Form your own class

The IBA is able to make up a class for any individual company if required (minimum 20 participants). In this case, you can help to determine the academic content and the timetable.

6. International focus

We teach International Business Studies, as well as languages at advanced level.

7. Close ties between firm and employee

IBA students often identify with their training company. This enables you to include them in your long-term planning.

8. Further training for existing employees

Invest in your high-potential employees. Sandwich courses are an ideal method to provide further training. More information on admission requirements can be found on our Website.
